1. Where is it illegal to have consensual same-sex sexual acts? See the below World map - criminalisation of consensual same-sex sexual acts Criminalisation of consensual same-sex sexual acts March 2023 Page of the below World map - criminalisation of consensual same-sex sexual acts March 2023 De facts Option Upp to 8 years 10 years to Me in Death Power Deather.

62 countries criminalise consensual same-sex sexual acts, 2 de facto, 129 not.² These 62 are (in red max death penalty; in orange max penalty life prison; other countries max penalty 1-14 yrs and/or fines):
Afghanistan, Algeria, Bangladesh, Brunei, Burundi, Cameroon, Chad, Comoros, Dominica, Egypt, Eritrea, Eswatini, Ethiopia, Gambia, Ghana, Grenada, Guinea, Guyana, Iran, Iraq, Jamaica, Kenya, Kiribati, Kuwait, Lebanon, Liberia, Libya, Malawi, Malaysia, Maldives, Mauritania, Mauritius, Morocco, Myanmar, Namibia, Nigeria (12 states), Oman, Pakistan, Papua New Guinea, Qatar, St Lucia, St Vincent & Grenadines, Samoa, Saudi Arabia, Senegal, Sierra Leone, Solomon Islands, Somalia, South Sudan, Sri Lanka, Sudan, Syria, Tanzania, Togo, Tonga, Tunisia, Turkmenistan, Tuvalu, Uganda, United Arab Emirates, Uzbekistan, Yemen, Zambia, Zimbabwe.

5 countries have 'no legal certainty' regarding death penalty: Afghanistan, Pakistan, Qatar, Somalia, UAE.³ Other punishments may include flogging, fining, or forced psychiatric treatment.

NB: It is important to note that legality of same-sex sexual acts cannot be read as evidence of a safer living environment for people with diverse sexual orientations or gender identities or expressions. In many of the States where consensual same-sex sexual acts are legal, social stigmatisation of people who are perceived as non-heterosexual or non-cisgender remains alarmingly high. In fact, in many of them, early decriminalisation dates can be explained by historical reasons completely unrelated to activism or lower hostility towards non-heterosexual forms of sexuality.

Information on enforcement of these provisions in each criminalising country can be found in ILGA World's report https://ilga.org/our-identities-under-arrest.

2. Where is it allowed to amend a person's name and gender marker in identity documents (Legal Gender Recognition (LGR)?

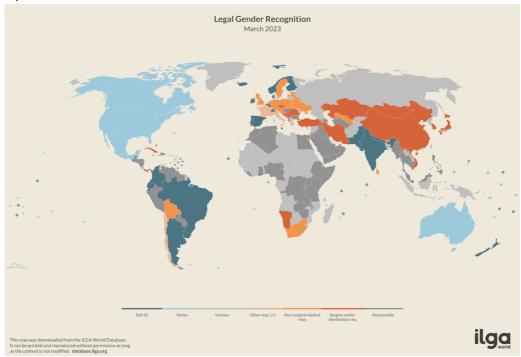

These two procedures grant trans and gender diverse people the ability to hold IDs that match their identity and expression, which in turn assists them to access other rights and services in their everyday lives. See the below map

In 24 countries is possible: LGR based on self-identification (green), in 20 countries: non-binary gender markers are avaliable, in at least 18 countries (marked orange and red): surgery or sterilisation is required, in at least 23 countries: a diagnosis is required. Not possible in the countries marked grey.
